Communication Skills for Health Care Providers
Lesson 8 of 8
Write Phrases

Learning Objectives

At the end of this lesson, you will be able to:

1. More effectively communicate in written phrases in the workplace.

Introduction

To do your job well you must communicate with supervisors and your coworkers. Writing memos, letters, and filling out reports can help you to communicate information.

Prescription for Understanding – Job Related

Information that is passed to others at a work site is relied on by many others, and can be of extreme importance. If you are writing by hand, write neatly. Make sure that the information that you are communicating is accurate and complete. If you find a mistake, correct it before the information is passed to someone else. If you are unsure about how to complete forms or what information should be communicated, ask for directions. You could also find a model or sample of a form or report that would help you. Try to make your writing similar to the model. Use the same format or design.
Example

Review the following evaluation and answer the questions that follow to the best of your ability.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Meeting Evaluation</th>
